FRISCO FELT SLIGHT QUAKE LAST NIGHT

Work of Reconstruction Was Begun Today and Temporary Structures Are Now Appearing.

CITY IS TO COME FROM ITS RUINS

Rain Yesterday and Shock Last Night Are Sending Thousands of Citizens Out of The City to The Neighboring Sections.

DEATH LIST NOW PLACED AT ONE THOUSAND

San Francisco, April 24.—A sharp earthquake shock was felt here at 10:39 o'clock last night. It lasted about three seconds and was from east to west. No damage has been reported.

Reconstruction Work Begins.
San Francisco, April 24.—Many began the work of reconstruction to-day. Temporary structures have begun to rise among the ashes of the ruined city.

Many More Leave the City.
San Francisco, April 24.—The rain yesterday and a slight earthquake shock last night, which did no damage, decided many refugees to leave San Francisco and the exodus started early this morning with renewed force.

Transportation is not hard to get; the fact is it is harder to get a loaf of bread than a free pass out of the storm center.

A correct estimate of the dead will never be obtained, as it is necessary to bury the dead at once. Only about 5 per cent of the victims are identified, which is another matter of deep regret.

Parks Being Depopulated.
San Francisco, April 24.—The refugees are rapidly thinning out of Golden Gate Park and the Panhandle. The police estimate two thousand and people left the park yesterday and only about three thousand are there now.

The company of soldiers sent from Fort Mason today to guard the vaults in Masonic cemetery, where papers from the city hall and other records are stored. All city hall records were saved but those in the county clerk's office were lost.

The embargo on the Merchant Vessels has been removed and shipping is now being governed as usual. The past few days vessels of the Pacific squadron have been keeping the vessels from leaving port.

The Death List a Question.
San Francisco, April 24.—Coroner Walsh states that his deputies took charge of four hundred and fifty bodies which were taken from ruins. These do not include those buried by police and militia in the Presidio reservation. Fully a hundred were buried in that section.

It is believed now the death list will be in the neighborhood of one thousand. Many of the killed were cremated and never will be recovered.

The bodies buried in Portsmouth and Washington squares will be exhumed and an attempt made at identification.

Chinatown to Relocate.
San Francisco, April 24.—Mayor Schmitz informed Chief of Police Dinnan that all the Chinese of the city are to be collected and placed in or near Fontanas' warehouses, near Fort Mason, and that the New Chinatown will be located at Hunters' Point, in the southern extremity of the county on the Bay shore.

Greely Says Conditions Are Better.
Washington, April 24.—The following was received from General Greely, in San Francisco, today. Although the rain entailed much discomfort last night, the conditions are much improved. It is estimated that more than 25,000 people have left the city the past 24 hours.

About 7,000 civilians under passes have entered San Francisco.

Two-Thirds of the City in Ashes.
San Francisco, April 24.—The city is a bee hive today and no place for drones. Troops will allow no idlers, forcing all men to work at the point of guns. Gangs of laborers are at work everywhere.

The street car companies say four lines are ready for use now. The electric companies announce they will soon be able to supply power.

The rains yesterday put out the last vestige of fire.
Two-thirds of the city is in ashes.

HOME COMING

FOR COUNTY RESIDENTS BEING ARRANGED BY COMMER-CIAL CLUB.

Day Will Be Named Later, but in the Meantime the Idea Will Be Boosted.

The Commercial club at its meeting last night decided to have one "Home Coming Day" for the county residents, and active preparations have begun to make the day a success.

The idea is to select one day of the Louisville state home coming week and invite all old residents of the county, of Packson's Purchase, if other towns can be secured to co-operate, and give the visitors a big celebration and entertainment.

Mr. Ben Weille was selected chairman of the arrangement committee and appointed the following committee: Sanders Brooks, F. E. Gholson, John Thompson, Will Yancey, Geo. Houser, Philip Newman, Adam Temple, John Smith, Dave Murphy, L. Stevens, Evan Jett, Barton Durrett, John Spence, Jim Bradshaw, R. J. Barber, Wm. Paterson, Gus Singleton, Will Hummel, Baxter Kuykendall, Jake Englert, Tom Reid and Ben Hovekamp.

"We expect to get a one-cent fare from Louisville to Paducah, and all old residents of this county will be enabled to come from Louisville to Paducah for $2.26," Col. Weille stated. "This will make it possible for them to come here, and if we are successful in the undertaking, will arrange a big barbecue, public speakings and other forms of entertainment. We will try to 'close up the town' for that day, and see what a rousing good time we can show them."

The committee will immediately confer with the Louisville officers of the arrangement committee and we will also correspond with the I. C. relative to the reduced rates. It will mean a big thing to Paducah, to have all these visitors here, and elaborate plans for entertainment will be made. The Commercial club expects to bring fully 5,000 people here on that day.

The date of the Home Coming Day for McCracken county will not be selected until something definitely is learned from the Louisville committee.

WASHINGTON HAS A SHOCK.

Slight 'Quake Felt in National Capital Yesterday.

Washington, April 24.—The seismograph of the weather bureau, recorded a very feeble earthquake shock, beginning at 4:25 a. m. of April 23, and lasting until after 5 o'clock. The stronger part of the disturbance occurred from about 4:29 to 4:32 a. m. This disturbance was very feeble as compared with the records of the great earthquake that recently occurred at San Francisco.

Hurled to His Death.

Cairo, Ill., April 24.—Clarence M. Thomas, of Diswood, Ill., who had come to Cairo on business, attempted to jump on a moving train on the levee front and missing his footing was thrown some distance and so injured that he died in a few hours. Thomas was married and had two children.

NATION'S TRIBUTE TO FIRST ADMIRAL

John Paul Jones Now Sleeps in Memorial Room.

Body Removed Today From Naval Academy to Bancroft Hall
With Ceremonies.

ADDRESS BY THE PRESIDENT.

Annapolis, Md., April 24.—Commemorative ceremonies over the body of John Paul Jones, the first American admiral, was held today. President Roosevelt, admirals of the American and French navies, and many other distinguished citizens participated. An address was made by President Roosevelt, French Ambassador Jusserand, and General Horace Porter. There was deep interest in the exercises.

The ceremonies consisted of the removal of the body of the first admiral from the tomb in the naval academy, where it was placed when brought here from France last year, to a memorial room in Bancroft Hall.

The President said:
On behalf of the American people I wish to thank our ancient ally, the great French nation, that proud and gallant nation, to whose help we once owed it that John Paul Jones was able to win for the Stars and Stripes the victory that has given him deathless fame, and to whose courtesy we now owe it that the body of the long-dead hero has been sent hither, and that to commemorate the reception of the illustrious dead a squadron of French war ships has come to our shores.

The annals of the French navy are filled with the names of brave and able seamen each of whom counted death as a mistress when the honor of his flag was at stake; and among the figures of these brave men there loom the larger shapes of those who, like Tourville, Duquesne, and the Bailli de Suffren, won high renown as fleet admirals, inferior to none of any navy of their day in martial prowess.

Porter Also Thanked.
In addition to welcoming the diplomatic and official representatives of France here present, let me also express my heartiest acknowledgments to our former ambassador to Paris, General Horace Porter, to whose zealous devotion we particularly owe it that the body of John Paul Jones has been brought to our shores.

When the body was thus brought over the representatives of many different cities wrote to me, each asking that it should find its last resting place in his city. But I feel that the place of all others in which the memory of the dead hero will most surely be a living force is here in Annapolis, where year by year we turn out the midshipmen who are to officer in the future the navy, among whose founders the dead man stands first. Moreover, the future naval officers, who live within these walls, will find in the career of the man whose life we this day celebrate, not merely a subject of admiration and respect, but an object lesson to be taken into their innermost hearts. Every officer in our navy should know by heart the deeds of John Paul Jones. Every officer in our navy should feel in each fiber of his being the eager desire to emulate the energy, the professional capacity, the indomitable determination, and dauntless scorn of death which marked John Paul Jones above all his fellows.

Our Navy's History.

The history of our navy, like the history of our nation, only extends over a period of a century and a quarter; yet we already have many memories of pride to thrill us as we read and hear of what has been done by our fighting men of the sea, from Perry and Macdonough to Farragut and Dewey. These memories include brilliant victories, and also, now and then, defeats only less honorable than the victories themselves; but the only defeats to which this praise can be given are those where, against heavy odds, men have stood to the death in hopeless battle. It is well for every American officer to remember that while a surrender may or may not be defensible the man who refuses to surrender need never make a defense. The one fact must always be explained; the other needs no explanation. Moreover he who would win glory and honor for the nation and for himself, must not too closely count the odds; if he does, he will never see such a day as that when Cushing sank the Albemarle.

The Spirit of Jones.

In his fight with the Serapis Jones' ship was so badly mauled that his opponent hailed him saying "Has your ship struck?" to which Jones answered, "I have not yet begun to fight." The spirit which inspired that answer upbore the man who gave it and the crew who served under him through the fury of the battle, which finally ended in their triumph. It was the same spirit which marked the commanders of the Cumberland and the Congress, when they met an equally glorious though less fortunate fate. The Cumberland sank, her flag flying, and her guns firing with the decks awash, while, when summoned to surrender, Morris replied, "Never! I'll sink alongside!" and made his words good. Immediately after the Cumberland was sunk the Congress was attacked, and her commander, Lieutenant Joe Smith, was killed. After fighting until she was helpless, and being unable to bring her guns to bear, the ship was surrendered; but when Smith's father old Commodore Joe Smith, who was on duty at Washington, saw the dispatches from Fort Monroe that the Congress had hoisted the white flag, he said quietly, "Then Joe's dead!" Surely no father could wish to feel a prouder certainty of his boy's behavior than the old commodore showed he possessed when he thus spoke; and no naval officer could hope to win a finer epitaph.

Honor to the Mighty Dead.

We have met today to do honor to the mighty dead. Remember that our words of admiration are but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals if we do not by steady preparation and by the cultivation of soul and mind and body fit ourselves so that in time of need we shall be prepared to emulate their deeds. Let every midshipman who passes through this institution remember, as he looks upon the tomb of John Paul Jones, that while no courage can atone for the lack of that efficiency which comes only through careful preparation in advance, careful training of the men, and careful fitting out of the engines of war, yet that none of these things can avail unless in the moment of crisis the heart rises level with the crisis. The navy whose captains will not surrender are sure in the long run to whip the navy whose captains will surrender, unless the inequality of skill or force is prodigious. The courage which never yields cannot take the place of the possession of good ships and good weapons and the ability skillfully to use these ships and these weapons; but its presence will often atone for many other shortcomings, and if with it are combined the other military qualities, the fortunate owner becomes literally invincible.

BEING HELD FOR BROTHER.

Young Cooley's Funeral at Mayfield
Deferred—Thomas' Trial
Friday.

The body of Henry Cooley, the young man shot Sunday morning in Mayfield by Officer William Thomas, who is alleged to have acted in self-defense, is being held pending the arrival of a brother, Morris Cooley, in Oklahoma.

The deceased's mother and sister arrived from Texas at noon today and the family is waiting on the brother. The funeral was intended for this afternoon, but on account of the delay to the brother was postponed. It will probably be held tomorrow morning at Mayfield.

The examining trial for Thomas has been set for Friday morning.

FIRST "COW" CASE.

Al Dawson, Colored, to Answer for Breaking the Law.

A warrant was issued against Al Dawson, colored, this morning, at the instance of Lycurgus Rice, the cow police, for suffering his cow to run at large in the city limits.

This is the first warrant to be issued, the result of the enforcement of the cow ordinance, and will come up for trial in police court tomorrow morning.

Dawson stated this morning that he had been looking for his cow for more than a week; that she got out a week ago and every night he had been out hunting her up with no success. He was searching for the bovine last night when notified over the telephone that she had been arrested by the cow police and placed in the city pound.

Relief Train Burned.

Tipton, Wyoming, April 24.—An express car and contents of a government relief train from the Schuikill arsenal was burned at Creston, Wyo., yesterday morning. The fire was caused by a spark under the roof. The amount of loss is unknown.

GREAT GENEROSITY RELIEVES FRISCO

Hungry People Being Well Fed And Cared For.

There Will Be No Limit to the Resources of San Francisco Relief Fund.

RELIEF FOR ALL DESERVING

San Francisco, April 24.—There will be no limit to the resources of the finance committee whose duty is to expend the millions being subscribed for the relief of the homeless sufferers. There will be plenty to distribute, but the problem now is how to use the contributions impartially for the relief of all those deserving.

The finance committee will no doubt dispense all money and supplies but will do its work through the regular army, and looking to that end, a conference will be held at Fort Mason tomorrow at which the state will be represented by Governor Pardee, the army by Gen. Funston and Greeley, and the finance committee by James D. Phelan, William F. Harris, Garrett McNery and M. H. DeYoung. At a meeting yesterday afternoon it was proposed that all persons that had homes left shall be forced to pay for their provisions and that only actual sufferers be given free food. Regular soldiers will be given charge of the distribution of supplies.

Fed in Business Way.

People are fed in a thoroughly business-like and systematic manner. From the water front where boatloads of provisions are docked, there was an endless procession of carts and drays carrying food to substations established throughout the city and parks. At these food and drink were served to all those who applied. About 1,500 tons of provisions are being moved daily from the water front.

Large supplies of blankets, tent-covers for those who have been scantily supplied heretofore are reaching supply stations rapidly. Barracks have been completed at several points and in these many people have found comfort and shelter against the inclemencies of the weather.

General health conditions are most satisfactory. The most encouraging feature is the absence of anything like an epidemic of disease of any nature whatever.

Water is still scarce in some sections of the city but every effort is being made to increase the supply. An inspection of the system shows that at some points pipes are badly twisted and displaced from the effects of the quake and these will have to be replaced by new ones.

Abundance of Food.

There is a vast supply of provisions on hand for the people of San Francisco. Major-General Krauthoff, chief depot commissary of the department of California, stated today there were available 700,000 ration supplies. Supt. Leach of the branch of the United States mint said today operations could be resumed immediately. There is no lack of money at the mint and New York transfers upon that institution will be paid upon presentation.

WITHOUT INTEREST.

Judge Reed Held Brief Session of Court Today.

Judge Reed held a brief session of circuit court this morning. There was little done. Motions were heard, cases set for trial and demurrers passed on. No action of importance was taken in the morning session which adjourned before 11 o'clock. The regular jury cases will come to trial beginning Monday.

Prepare for Anticipated Strike.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 24.—The anthracite operators are making great preparation for the anticipated strike of the miners. A stockade has been erected around the mines and a guard stationed therein. Arrangements have also been made to call out the military on the slightest provocation. It is feared bloodshed will follow a general strike. John Mitchell arrived this afternoon to hold a conference with the district presidents on the situation.

Wholesale Attempt at Suicide.

Philadelphia, April 24.—The entire family of Casper Fahn was overcome by gas early yesterday morning. It is said to have been an attempt at wholesale suicide. The mother and two daughters are dead. The father and two sons may recover.

Men who can pass their ignorance off for eccentricity are born diplomats.

READ HIMSELF WARM.

Thought It the Book He Had Chosen, but It Was the Furnace.

Recent events at Vesuvius and on the California coast, notably the burning of San Francisco, have suggested to many people certain lines of reading dealing with similar catastrophes.

A certain young man in town, left in charge of the house while the family went to church, got out a bit of Roman history dealing with the burning of Rome under Nero. He sat down near a furnace and soon became deeply absorbed in reading. Presently he got very warm and got up and removed his coat. He read a while longer and seemed to be getting hotter, so he removed his vest and collar. He read some more and it finally appeared necessary that he should remove his shoes, which he did.

Finally the family returned from church and as one of the young ladies of the household came into the hall she exclaimed:

"For goodness' sake, Jimmie, why don't you check the furnace?"

"Jimmie" said: "A-w-w-w! Is that what is making me so hot? I thought it was this blamed book."

REV. DR. ENELOW'S VIEWS.

San Francisco Horror a Lesson to the World.

Most of the Louisville pastors took occasion Sunday to discuss the Pacific coast catastrophe. Many of them took up contributions for the relief fund. The Rev. Dr. H. G. Enelow, of the Adas Israel temple, but formerly of Temple Israel, Paducah, drew from the calamity examples of heroism, hope, goodness and humanity, summing up his conclusions in the words:

"And it ought to have a chastening influence on all of us, reminding us of the frailty of all life and the instability of our material greatness; it should teach us to conduct ourselves with that humanity and justice and to radiate that gladness and beauty which alone can give whatever strength and dignity there may be possible for the race of men and enlarge that treasury of light and happiness of which humanity is so much in need, and which it is the duty of every good man and woman, according to the power of each, to increase."

Gapon May Have Been Lynched.

Manchester, England, April 24.—The Guardian states that Father Gapon, the former leader of the St. Petersburg workmen, was hanged by revolutionists on April 10. Father Gapon was leader for the workingmen in the demonstration on Red Sunday in January last year. He has long been charged with selling out to or deserting to the government and has been lost to sight for some time. Late inquiries as to his whereabouts is answered by the above announcement.

Foul Play Is Suspected.

Cairo, Ill., April 24.—Hezekiah Rumliff is mysteriously missing from his home in Beech Ridge, near here. He came to Cairo to collect $400 last week, since which time he has not been seen. His wife suspects foul play, he being happily situated in life. A search of the town is being made for Rumliff.

CLEARING WAY FOR NEW FRISCO

First Stages of Rebuilding Well in Progress.

Dangerous Walls Being Razed, Block Streets Reopened and Life Shown.

FRENCH CONSUL IS MISSING.

San Francisco, Cal., April 24.—The new San Francisco which will rise from the ashes of the old is in its first stages of rebuilding. After days of confusion and almost superhuman effort on the part of the citizens in the great task of sheltering, feeding and otherwise caring for homeless thousands, complete order has been re-established and attention turned to the future.

Throughout the business district, walls are being razed and buildings that had stood the test of earthquake and fire are being inspected with a view of re-occupancy and grounds are being cleared for the immediate construction of new buildings. The assurance of insurance companies that measures taken by financial institutions will be prompt is the reassuring word that has reached the business men of San Francisco from Eastern financial centers. All these things went to clear away any feeling of uncertainties that have existed.

French Consul Lost.

It is feared the French Consul M. LeConte Perretti de La Rossa is lost. The vice consul has made every effort to locate his chief but has been unsuccessful.

San Francisco is not under martial law and has not been from the beginning. There has been a general misunderstanding among the troops themselves. A report that Mayor Schmitz is at the head of all those that are patrolling and is merely assisted by troops has been officially confirmed. Officers of the army have stated they are working subject to any restraining order from the mayor.

Are Filmy Rumors.

Almost all the stories of rash violence on the part of the troops are filmy rumors. During last night's patrolling many troops admitted to newspaper men that they did not know what their orders were or where they came from. It appeared all were using their own judgment. The state militia all said they were under orders of state militia commanders, but whether they are working in pursuance of orders or not they failed to recognize city passes, thereby causing much confusion and inconvenience to those who were engaged in relief work. Regular troops are working in accord with instructions from the mayor's office. Consequently they have been the salvation of the patrol system.

Greely in Control.

Gen. A. W. Greely has taken full control of the federal troops in San Francisco. Gen. Funston is to serve under Greely.

Adolph Busch, the great St. Louis brewer, who was in the San Francisco earthquake, has sent a contribution of $100,000 to the sufferers on the slope.

There were ninety-three churches, missions and other religious institutions wrecked in the San Francisco quake. Many weddings have occurred since the quake. The engaged have found it necessary to marry that all may begin life anew in fact.

COURT OF APPEAL DECISION.

Case From McCracken Affirmed and One From Calloway Reversed.

Frankfort, April 24.—The judgment of the McCracken circuit court in case of the commonwealth against H. H. Loving was affirmed by appellate court today. The court below sustained a demurrer to the indictment charging a failure to secure license to represent an investment company. The court reversed the Calloway circuit court in the damage case of Alfred Crocker against E. H. Haley and remanded it for new trial. The suit for damages for ill-treatment of appellant, a boy 16 years old.

Church Claimants Clash.

Vienna, Prussia, April 24.—Reports from Lesma state that three thousand Orthodox Catholics, led by three priests and a Capuchin monk, attempted to retake a church which had been seized by Marientle sectarians. The latter, numbering about four thousand, defended the church, defeating the Catholics and killing 12 and wounding 50.
